

INVINCIBLES WILL HOLD BIG CHARITY BALL MONDAY EVE

FIRST IMPORTANT SOCIAL PARTY OF SEASON AT ARMY ORY HALL

OBJECT IS MOST WORTHY ONE

Club Of Young Ladies Does Much Each Year To Help The Needy Of Dixon

Always an event of the year, the Invincibles' Charity ball, to be given Monday evening in Armyory hall, promises to outrank its predecessors in attendance and as a delightful social happening. The subscription for tickets has been unprecedentedly large and great preparation has been made by the members of the Invincibles, a club made up of a number of young women, in the social life of Dixon, to make the occasion most enjoyable. The fact that the object is such a worthy one, the aiding of Dixon's needy during the rigorous winter months which tax them so severely, always has brought a ready response and, it is needless to say, will bring the same ready response this year. The charitable efforts of the club are in no way indiscriminate, but are organized along the most helpful and systematic lines, and the club is worthy of all the assistance that can be given. Organized in 1901, the Invincibles have for the past twelve years or more turned their attention to alleviating the distress of the unfortunate.

The prominence of the patronesses, Mrs. Frank Rosbrook, Mrs. Theodore Fuller, Miss Christine Squires, Miss Franc Ingraham, and of the club members; Misses Dorothy Dimick, Helen Brown, Neva McCleary, Mary Todd, Marion Davies, Gladys Steel, and Alice Williamson, and Mesdames Irvin Kahler, John G. Ralston, Raymond McGowan of this city, and Mrs. Richard Sanders of Chicago and Mrs. William Matthews of Spokane, Wash., members of the club who at present are guests here, and who have been most helpful in promoting the ball, bespeaks a most successful culmination to their efforts.

The ball, coming as a precursor of the holiday festivities, is always an event of great social gaiety, attended by all of Dixon's most prominent people. The decorations of the hall, of which Fallstrom has charge, will be beautifully effective, but withal, quite simple. The Misses Cook will cater for the luncheon to be served in an interim of the dancing. The program for the concert, opening at 8 o'clock, and the dance which follows, to be given by the Marquette orchestra of eight pieces is given below:

Foot And Mouth Claims To Cause Another Session

Farmers Demand Legislation By General Assembly To Repay Losses

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 27.—Governor Dunne may issue a proclamation for a second extraordinary session of the legislature. It may come this next week and it may go over until after the holidays. The disposition is to clean up the calendar next week so far as this special session goes. It would be possible for the governor to issue a second proclamation and continue the second special session so that it could clear its decks next week also.

Farmers throughout the state are up in arms over the foot and mouth plague and it is considered a political issue in acute stages. Claims for slaughtered cattle up to date in the state auditor's office show $45,000 more than there is money appropriated and some insist claims to come in will run this up to more than $100,000. Governor Dunne was besieged to include the foot and mouth indemnity appropriations in his original special session proclamation.

Another special session will be welcomed by the members who owe the state mileage, it is argued. It will give them a chance to square accounts.

LITTLE HOPE FOR ROY JOHNSON'S RECOVERY

SURGEONS AT ST. BERNARD HOSPITAL GIVE FAMILY NO ENCOURAGEMENT.

COE FUNERAL NOT ARRANGED

Roy Johnson of this city, who was injured in an automobile accident in Chicago Thursday afternoon, is still in a critical condition at St. Bernard hospital on Sixty-third street and the attending physician does not extend much encouragement for his recovery. The skull was fractured at the base of the brain and his left hip is badly bruised. It is feared there may be an internal hemorrhage. He has not fully regained consciousness since the accident.

His wife and cousin, Frank Johnson, are with him and relatives here are kept in touch with his condition. There was little change in his condition from morning until noon.

No arrangements have been made for the funeral of Fred Coe, who succumbed Friday at 7 a. m. at the Englewood hospital. It is likely the body will be brought to this city of Sterling for burial.

ARTILLERY FIRE PLAYS BIGGEST PART IN ACTIONS ON FRANCO-GERMAN LINE.

FRENCH GUN FIRING DOWN INTO PASS
(When the time comes, say the French, General Joffre will attempt another "drive" against the German lines. Until then reports of artillery fire and the throwing of grenades make up the greater part of the news from the west front. Says one official announcement: "The artillery actions have been very spirited in Artois, around Loos and Halluch as well as to the north of the Somme and to the north of the Aisne, in the region of Arrancourt, Bancourt and Trilloy and also near Soissons. The enemy works were very badly damaged by our fire." The picture shows the firing of a French piece into a pass in Alsace.)

CRUSHED TO DEATH BY AN ANGRY BULL

W. T. LAMB, CHAIRMAN STEPHENSON COUNTY SUPERVISORS, KILLED.

TRAGEDY TOOK PLACE ON HIS FARM

Recovery of Body Impossible Until Rescue Party Killed Mangled Bull.

Crushed by an enraged bull, was the death meted out by fate to Wm. T. Lamb, chairman of the county board of supervisors, Wednesday afternoon at his farm near Ridott. At about 5 o'clock in the afternoon Lamb left the house to go to the barn to do some of the evening work. Ordinarily he would have returned in a few minutes, but when the minutes lengthened out until it was almost 6 o'clock and he was still absent, his wife became alarmed and went toward the barn. As she approached she heard the bull bellowing and immediately surmizing that something was wrong, ran to the house and telephoned her son, Charles Lamb. When he arrived the body of his father had not been found and a search was started. Guy Stevens, a farm hand employed by Mr. Lamb, discovered the remains. Stevens testified at the inquest that when he first went out, the bull was in the barn, but followed him out and would have attacked him had he not gotten out of the way, says the Freeport Journal-Standard.

The body of Mr. Lamb was found in an alleyway of the pig pen, just inside the door that opened on an alley that led to the yard where the bull ordinarily was kept. It must have been in this yard that the bull had attacked Mr. Lamb and the fight that followed must have been terrible. Mr. Lamb, 69 years old, never had a chance for his life. He was probably butted again and again. The gate leading from the yard was broken, showing that the bull had crashed into it, probably carrying Mr. Lamb before

Open House Drew Good Attendance At 'Y' Friday Eve

Gymnasium Classes Entertained Many Visitors At Association

There was a fairly good crowd in attendance at the open house held by the physical classes at the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening, and there was much doing in the gymnasium, on the bowling alleys and in the swimming pool. Considerable interest was taken in the game of volleyball played between two teams from the business men's class and it resulted in a victory for the team led by Carl Buchner. A basket ball game was played between the high school team and the Y. M. C. A. team in which the latter team came out ahead. This was more of a practice game, as most of the high school boys are also members of the Association and during the winter it is hoped that more of these games can be played between the teams representing the two institutions. There was also a basket ball game between the teams from the junior and freshman classes of the north side high school and the juniors won.

S.D.&E. IS FINED IN STERLING COURT TODAY

SUPERINTENDENT WAS ASSESSED $25 UNDER LIQUOR ORDINANCE.

CLAMPING LID ON STERLING

(Special to Telegraph)
Sterling, Nov. 27.—A. W. Courmyer, as superintendent of the S. D. & E., was this morning fined $25 and costs when his company was found guilty of violating the city ordinance regarding the shipment of liquors into this city.

New Orders Issued.
Simultaneously with the settlement of the case the superintendent of the traction company issued orders that hereafter all shipments over the company's line must be taken to the freight office in either city, where receipts will be issued for them. Conductors and motormen will be prohibited from accepting shipments on the cars.

Clamping Down Lid.
The Sterling officials are doing their best to make the city absolutely "dry." Commissioner Overholser this morning placed a ban on cider testing over two per cent alcohol and several locker clubs in the city have been ordered to close their places within a week.

DIRECTOR PROMISES GREAT PRODUCTION

"PIRATES OF PENZANCE" WILL BE GREAT SURPRISE TO DIXON PEOPLE

From now on, the half hundred young people who are rehearsing "The Pirates of Penzance," Gilbert and Sullivan's famous comic opera that will be produced by St. Luke's choir, will be kept pretty busy, according to Director Hazelrigg. The music rehearsals are just about completed and from now on all attention will be given to perfecting the stage business and turning prosaic business and professional men into Des Wolf Hoppers and Carusos. Mr. Hazelrigg expressed himself as being more than pleased with the talent furnished him and ventured the prediction that the audience would be most agreeably surprised when the curtain rises on the first act. As he said, "This isn't going to look like an ordinary 'home talent' affair. With the splendid equipment I carry and the unlooked for good talent that the local committee has secured for me, your people are going to be mightily surprised. They will think they are looking at some big New York production. Why, I've got some people in this that are better singers than I used to have when I brought the old Andrews Opera Co. to Dixon, and you know that was quite some company. You can put it as strong as you like—this is going to be a real show." The cast will be announced at an early date.

BRITISH DEFEATED TURKS IN BATTLE GREAT IMPORTANCE

SUCCESS AT CTESIPHON IS COMPLETE—TURKS RETIRED TO MAIN LINE.

ALLIES STILL AT SALONIKI

Large Numbers of Their Troops Are Being Disembarked at That Point Yet.

(Associated Press)

The battle between the British and Turkish forces at Ctesiphon, near Bagdad, is now reported by London as a British success of first importance. The retirement of the British after the capture of Ctesiphon was because of lack of water and was only temporary. After the Turks withdrew the British re-occupied their former positions without opposition.

Allies Still Landing.
Allied troops continue to land at Saloniki in large numbers.

Serbs Retreat South.
A Reuter message says that after the occupation of Pristina by the Austrians and Germans the main body of the Serbian army retreated south. The Serbs were unable to maintain their position in the Katchanik region owing to the superior number of the invaders.

Gas Failed in Effect.

The French war office reported today that the enemy threw suffocating gases without result between Forges and Bethanfort, west of the river Meuse.

A German military aeroplane has been brought down by French shells east of Berry-au-Bac. It fell in the Aisne river and the aviators escaped by swimming.

Give German Figures.
A semi-official announcement from Berlin places the number of Serbians taken by the Austro-German and Bulgarian forces at 101,000, while it is also claimed that 2,000 Austrians who had been captured by the Serbs were liberated by their comrades.

Nearing Gorizia.
Italian attacks against the defense of Gorizia continue and the lately won positions are being strengthened despite the Austrian counter attacks.

Confirm British Victory.
An official statement from Constantinople confirms the British report that in the recent battle in Mesopotamia the Turks retired after losing a considerable number, and withdrew to their main position.

Many Allies Killed.
Constantinople reports a large number of allies killed on the Gallipoli peninsula.

West Pocket Essays

By GEORGE FITCH
Author of "At Good Old Sivas"

A senator is a very great man who has been able to get a state legislature by the neck and choke a $7,500 a year call from his country out of it.

Senators are very keen of hearing and sometimes can detect their country's call when it isn't loud enough to be heard beyond a very small room in a hotel. But after they have gone to Washington to toil in the Capitol they often get surprisingly deaf. You can call to a senator for three years and make so much noise that the Statue of Columbia on top of the Capitol will keep her hands on her ears for months at a time, but your senator will only report to the president that he has heard no evidence of dissatisfaction in his state. Senatorial work is terribly hard on the ears.

Senators are elected by legislatures and serve six years unless found out sooner. There are only two senators from each state, but this has always been considered a great plenty. It takes some legislatures so long to elect two senators that they have no time left in which to consider the child labor question and the uniform divorce law.

A senator is supposed to act as a regulator for the House of Representatives. Each senator has about four and one-half representatives to regulate and the job is evidently a very severe one, for only fifteen of the present senators have been able to hold it for more than ten years.

When a senator goes to Washington he becomes a very important personage and lives in the lap of luxury. The government buys his office furniture and letter paper and soap and bath towels and hair restorer, and when he leaves the Capitol at noon after a hard day's work he finds some captain of industry waiting to take him down town in a gasoline chariot and buy him a cigar with a red, white and blue belt around it. All this is so comfortable that most senators are very much averse to change. They want to remain just as they are forever, but unfortunately the hardness of hearing mentioned above compels most of them to retire from office by request after a few years.

Some states select their senators by primary vote and some leave the job to the corporations. American corporations have now grown so large that a number of them have to have individual senators, although it is also possible for several smaller corporations to club together and get a senator which they can use turn about. Some corporations are so tight with their senators that they will not allow the people to use them at all.

The senate is a solemn deliberative body and is beautiful to watch. Senators are very courteous to each other except to those senators who talk their way into the body. Talk is cheap and there is nothing cheap about the senate. Take it all around the job is not what it once was. A plug hat and a pocket full of checks do not always fetch the election any more. A candidate has to show reasons why he should get in and then has to turn right around and show reasons why he shouldn't get out. Between these two a senator sometimes has a chance to feel proud and lofty for about one week out of the fifty-two.

[While the Tenth Army reported an unbroken series of successes against the Serbians in the north of the invaded country of the latter, the Bulgarian allies of the Germans and Austrians were less successful in opposing the northward advance of the French and British from Saloniki. General Bailoud, commander of the French soldiers operating north of Saloniki, is seen here chatting with members of his staff.]

Less Than 40 Per Cent Of Rural People Church Members

Columbus, O., Nov. 27.—One out of every nine country churches have in recent years been abandoned. Only one third are increasing in membership and two thirds have either ceased growing or are dying; 83 per cent have less than 100 members; 21 per cent have less than 25; 27 per cent have between 25 and 50, and 34 per cent have between 50 and 100. Only 6 per cent have individual preachers, while 26 per cent share ministers with another church; 23 per cent have one third the time of a minister; 27 per cent have one fourth time; 14 per cent have one fifth time; 5 per cent have one sixth time. A large proportion of preachers receive about the same pay as a day laborer. Less than 40 per cent of the rural population are church members.

These facts, shown in an extensive rural survey of Ohio, whose results were announced today, are applicable to most states, according to officers of the Commission of Church and Country Life. Plans for scientific surveys of all states, including Illinois, to secure definite data for each locality, will be formulated at the national convention of the commission to be held in Columbus Dec. 8, 9, 10, with President Wilson and Gifford Pinchot among the speakers.

The Ohio survey is considered the most thorough ever undertaken but the campaign not only for surveys but also for speedy reforms to make the churches community centers as well as houses of religious worship, is to be carried into every part of the country within a year.

Here are the causes which the country church of the near future must promote to save itself according to a report by President Kenyon L. Butterfield of Massachusetts Agricultural college, ready for presentation to the commission: Good roads, better farming, encouragement of agricultural college extension courses, community beautification, recreation and temperance, public health, better schools, Saturday half holiday for agricultural laborers, community athletics, observance of religious and patriotic holidays and home coming weeks, community planning and contentment with farm life.

The church must become the social center for the community, with its minister leading in a variety of interest, and religion thereby will become a stronger appeal, says the Butterfield report. Naturally this program is expected eventually to dim denominational lines.

French Destroy Munition Department in Argonne District.

Paris, Nov. 27.—A marked increase in the activity of the artillery in the Argonne is reported in the official communiques. The French destroyed a munition department in this region. TOO ALL-FIRED GENEROUS.

The Traveler Would Have Been Pleased to Miss the Bullets.

A railroad reporter declared in Upton Sinclair's hearing that freight rebates were sometimes granted purely out of generosity.

Mr. Sinclair, laughing, exclaimed: "Admit that to be true, and then your generosity is no better timed than Alkali Ike's."

"A traveler arrived late one night at the Palace Hotel in Tin Can, and, being very tired, he ordered his dinner to be served in his room."

"As he was peacefully eating his bear steak he heard a loud noise down stairs, a bang, an oath, two quick crashes, and a bullet shot up through the floor and wounded the traveler in the leg."

"Putting down his knife and fork he rose and began to hop about the room with loud groans. Suddenly the landlord burst in on him."

"What did that thar bullet go to?" the landlord exclaimed, laughing. "Oh, air ye hurt, stranger? Well, now, that's too bad? You see, Alkali Ike and Redface Leary had an argument down in the bar, and fit it out fair and square. Redface fired fast and missed, and Ike—the all-fired generous cuss!—he fired in the air."

NEW SUPER BATTLE CRUISERS PLANNED

UNCLE SAM WILL BUILD TWO SPEED SHIPS OF ENORMOUS SIZE.

LONGER THAN THE LUSITANIA

Will Be 800 Feet Long and Have a Speed of 35 Knots Per Hour.

(Associated Press)

Washington, Nov. 26.—Some idea of the size and power of the super battle cruisers proposed as part of the new naval program may be gained from the fact that each one would be 800 feet long—more than twice as long as any battleship which participated in the Spanish-American war.

Tests of hull models for the giant cruisers are proceeding at the model basin in the Washington navy yard to determine just how much horsepower will be required to drive them 35 knots an hour, the speed fixed by the navy general board. It will take six separate sets of steam turbines, it is understood, operating six propellers to attain that pace and the hull designs of the models show a huge, square cross section amidships in order to accommodate the mass of machinery.

There is no longer any doubt about the amount of horsepower required to drive a ship of known design at a desired speed. The model basin has done away with speculation on that point. It is a tank several hundred feet long and thirty feet wide carrying the complicated mechanism to measure the distance that is offered by a hull towed through the water. The average battleship model is 20 feet long and is in exact proportion to the ship it is planned to construct. It has been established as a law of physics that the power required to pull a model through the water at six knots, for instance, will show exactly the force necessary to drive the ship herself at a pre-determined rate. The effect of any minor change in hull construction is instantly shown by the recording instrument. An 18 knot speed can be reached in the tank.

Indefinite information has reached Navy officers that England is building a swift vessel as an experiment that may reach 35 knots an hour and will carry heavy guns and no armor whatever. She will be a new type of scout cruiser rather than a battlecruiser, it is understood, and have less endurance than battle cruisers.

The navy model basin is now equipped with a wave making device with which the rolling qualities of a ship design can be tested and also her ability to sustain high speed in rough water. It consists of a motor driven fan under water which stirs the contents of the tank into wave motions of any desired frequency or size. At the opposite end of the tank is a beach over which the waves run to be trapped in the space behind, preventing their return to the tank to interfere with experiments. More accurate data on ship construction has been given out from the navy plant than from all other similar tanks in the world combined. It has a capacity of testing 150 or more models annually as compared to 50 in the British admiralty tank. Nearly 2000 models have been tested at the navy yard and the results carefully tabulated. In slack periods a regular series of test models is produced and the results noted in order that the whole scientific field may be covered. The officer in charge presents the new data gathered before a scientific society each year and private designers can now work out the hull of a merchant ship on the formulas gathered by the government. About one-fifth of the work now done in the basin is for private ship builders who send plans of proposed ships to the navy yard where models are constructed and tested. The plant soon will have a capacity of producing and testing one model every 24 hours.

Hinds, and his family of 325 Logan avenue. Mr. Hinds was formerly an employee of the Henderson Shoe Co. of this city, and left Dixon about 15 years ago. He is now a conductor in the service of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway with headquarters at Fairbury, Neb.

Fane-Hayes

The wedding of Miss Mary Cecilia Hayes, a daughter of Charles Hayes of Kansas City, Mo., and Allan Fane of this city, occurred at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of Thanksgiving day at St. Patrick's church. The service was read by Father Michael Foley. Miss Erin Fane, a sister of the groom, served as bridesmaid, and Le Roy Herrington of West Chicago attended Mr. Fane as best man.

Both the bride and her bridesmaid were attired in blue tailored suits, the bride's being of blue wool poplin with white fur trimmings, with hat in costume. The bridesmaid's hat was a white creation. White chrysanthemums were carried by the bride and yellow chrysanthemums by the bridesmaid.

At the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Edward Fane, with whom the bride has made her home for the past seven months, a four course dinner was served after the ceremony by Misses Kathryn and Agnes Fane. The decorations were in yellow and white. Edward Fane was toastmaster at the dinner. The wedding ring in the cake fell to the lot of Miss Bessie Fane, while the bouquet of the bride, tossed as the bride and groom were leaving for their honeymoon trip to Chicago, was caught by Miss Kathryn Fane.

Mr. and Mrs. Fane, upon their return, will make their home at 922 Woodlawn avenue. Mr. Fane is connected with the Flemming grocery store in Dementown.

Mr. Nyman has a large number of friends in this city as at one time he was a student in the law department at Dixon College.

Mystic Workers Nominations

The Mystic Workers held their regular meeting last evening in Miller hall. Although the weather was very stormy, a very large crowd was present to witness the initiation of another large class, the degree team putting the candidates through the ceremonies of mystery. Seventeen candidates were elected to membership last evening, and at the next meeting a large number of applications are expected. Worthy Hoover said last night we had to win that $150 from the Supreme Master, and he urged everyone to secure at least one new member before Jan. 1, 1916.

The annual nomination of officers was held last evening, the entire list of officers being nominated without opposition. A large number of candidates are in the field for delegates to the Supreme Convention, to be held in Grand Rapids Mich., in June. Carpet Rag Party

A most enjoyable evening was spent last evening by the members of Miss Ella Kentner's Sunday school class of the Methodist church and their friends in the Carpet Rag party at the church. Each girl brought her name wrapped in a ball of carpet rags and the boys chose balls, and unwinding found the name of their partner for the delicious supper served late in the evening following a few merry hours spent in music and games. During the evening Miss Myrtle Anderson favored the guests with a vocal solo. Out of town guests at the party were Miss Helen Rosengren and Lloyd Cohenour of Sterling.

Entertained with Luncheon

Mrs. Max Eichler entertained a number of the O. E. S. officers last evening with a particularly palatable luncheon. A business meeting occupied part of the evening with bridge as a diversion for the remainder.

Literary Evening

The literary evening, sponsored by the Phidian Art club, with the other literary clubs of the city as its guests, held at the Presbyterian church last evening with Dr. R. J. Bennett of Chicago as lecturer, proved very enjoyable.

Dr. Bennett's lecture, "In Old New England," took up the historic side of New England, beginning with the Norsemen, who settled it first according to tradition, on through the settlements made by the Pilgrims and the Puritans, to more modern times. The lecture was to this evening to spend Sunday with most instructive and interesting, particularly so as Dr. Bennett had his own personal observations to add to the history of that region. The views shown of the various points of interest of selections, among them being the Revolution, the homes of the poets, etc., were a very choice collection.

The program also furnished several musical treats. Mrs. Herbert Martin, despite her cold, displayed her wonderful contralto voice in a number of selection, among them being, "Calm as the Night," by Bohm. Miss Vivian Graves, also a contralto, whose services as a vocalist are greatly in demand, gave three beautiful numbers, "The Rosary," "Good-bye" and "Sweet Day."

At the close of the program a reception was held in the church parlors with refreshments of frappe and wafers served. The committee on refreshments consisted of Miss Hitchcock, Mrs. C. P. Reid, Mrs. John Crabtree, Mrs. Oscar Brown, and Miss Dimick. Decorations of the reception room were ferns and great creamy chrysanthemums.

ASEPTIS AND THE DISH TOWEL.

Among the low priced restaurants and lunch rooms which are numbered by hundreds in our large cities, there is one (it is but a type—there are dozens like it) whose exterior of bright brick and plate glass is as sparkling and bright as a newly frosted cake. Within, an expanse of white enamel, resplendent metal and spotless linen proclaims a devotion to cleanliness rivaled only by the surgical ward in a hospital. The waitresses are as neat and trim as uniformed nurses. In this stainless temple of alimentation one of the immaculate priestesses has been seen to pick up a glass just used by a departing guest, polish it with the dish towel at her belt, and calmly replace it on the table to be used by the next patron! One might instance even more horrifying infringement on prandial decency in more pretentious establishments one might expiate on the possible dangers of infection from such practices. The establishments do not lose custom thereby, probably because the public, while vaguely impressed with the beautiful ideal of asepsis or perfect cleanliness, has a pathetically inadequate idea of what it means. It is therefore encouraging to read the following, under the heading "The Mischief of Wiping Cloth," in the November issue of the Journal of Home Economics:

"The dish towel, even of the genteel barred variety, called a tea towel, is in bad repute. Ever since men began to look through the microscope and think in terms of the microscope its fate has been sealed. Only when freshly washed and boiled and used in clean hands to wipe the rims of already scalded and drained dishes is to be admitted into a modern kitchen. Used in dirty hands till grimy, carried on the arm of a waiter and used to polish a plate or wipe up a table, it belongs to the dark ages, hygienically speaking. In dish washing the household should more and more approach the practice of the laboratory where glassware and porcelain are washed, rinsed in boiling water and placed to drain. No cloth, no matter how well known its antecedents, is allowed to touch them, for they are now absolutely clean and must remain clean."

HUGHES' CLAIM TO ADMIRATION.

The demand by Justice Hughes that his name be stricken off the primary ballot in Nebraska comes as the only thing that could have been expected, in view of his known convictions as to the obligations resting upon a member of the supreme court. He knew that an attitude of non-interference on his part would inevitably be interpreted as tantamount to a declaration of his candidacy in a receptive sense, and he has moved promptly to forestall such a conclusion in the public mind.

Those who regard Justice Hughes as the man above all others who would command invincible strength at the head of the republican presidential ticket, and who think only of that important point, will regret his stand. But those who think with him that it is imperative to safeguard the supreme court against the possible corrupting influence of political ambition among its membership will applaud his course as in the highest degree patriotic. At any rate men must honor the man for his fine sense of duty in putting his ideals as a judge above any personal inclination he might have to fill the highest political office within the gift of the people.

If his action rules him out, positively and finally, from consideration as a presidential possibility, it emphasizes all the more the splendid firmness and loyalty to conviction that appeals so forcibly to the people as among the characteristics that they would have exemplified in their chief magistrates.

ONE GOODFELLOW APPEARS.

The Christmas spirit is making itself felt and the Goodfellow club of Dixon has received an encouraging start. With no solicitation and before we had commenced asking for donations through the paper, one man, Mr. A. W. Kramer of the local 5 and 10 cent store phoned up to the Telegraph office yesterday and said to tell the Goodfellow department that he would give ten dollars worth of merchandise out of his store for the Goodfellow children this year. Mr. Kramer said that when we get ready for the goods we should come down and pick it out.

This is not Mr. Kramer's first offense. He has done Goodfellow work before and he knows how much fun it is, so he is getting in his kood work early.

THE CRIPPLED BABY PROBLEM.

The doctor who let the crippled baby die in Chicago instead of operating upon him is no different from hundreds of thousands of physicians so far as his act of allowing the malformed infant to die. His difference from other physicians lies in the act of making his deed public. Most doctors know when to stop a life of pain and suffering or when to save a baby. A great number of them use their discretion, though the world never knows of it.

The Chicago doctor has raised a storm of discussion. We believe that the world has advanced far enough so that good may come of the discussion, for ignorance is giving place to enlightenment.

WHERE THE FOG IS THICK.

A Massachusetts man has invented a means for ending the perils to liners of fog at sea. If some genius would only invent a way of overcoming the fog in congress which imperils the country's shipping through fool Furseth laws, great things might be accomplished.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

BE CONSISTENT.

If some of the thousands of persons who protest in horror against the death of a malformed infant in Chicago will now display as much interest in preventing deaths of thousands of perfectly formed children through carelessness and poverty, the brief life of the Bollinger baby will not have been in vain.—North American.

Davenport, Iowa, has cut out buying heavy fire trucks and has started a "mosquito fleet" of light hose trucks, made of 4ds and similar insects.

SENT CASH FOR EXPLOSIONS?

Evidence of Plant to Dynamite Many Plants and Ships Said to Have Been Discovered—Extensive War Plant Intrigue May Yet Be Brought to Light.

San Francisco, Nov. 27.—C. C. Crowley, formerly a special investigator in the county district attorney's office, was arrested here by Don S. Rathbun, a special agent in the department of justice, in connection with alleged plots to dynamite munitions factories. A complaint was lodged against Crowley charging him with sending money to further the destruction by dynamite of vessels bearing munitions of war and the destruction by fire and dynamite of docks on the Pacific coast, beginning in May, 1915.

Sends Money to Accomplices. It set forth that Crowley sent three money orders to an alleged agent at Tacoma or Seattle, one on May 9 for $250 and two on June 4 for $50 each. The orders were issued to a man named Carrott. Specific mention was made of the explosion of a barge of dynamite at Seattle.

Crowley, federal authorities said, took employment with the Hercules Powder company here, supposedly to keep in touch with the shipments of explosives sent from here.

Authorities Claim Ample Evidence. Formal service of the complaint was held up until he should have opportunity to talk fully with Mr. Preston concerning the ramifications of the alleged plot.

Evidences of plots to dynamite factories and ships and concerning the recent explosion of a barge of dynamite at Seattle, Wash., was said by authorities to be already in their possession.

GERMAN CRUISER
SENT TO BOTTOM

Frauenlob Is Victim of Attack by Submarine of Allies.

SISTER SHIP OF THE UNDINE

Petrograd Dispatch States that Protected Vessel Met Its Fate in Same Locality Where Undine Went Down on Afternoon of November 7—Each Carried 275 Men.

London, Nov. 27.—The German protected cruiser Frauenlob has been sunk by a submarine of the entente allies, according to a semi-official announcement made at Petrograd. The Frauenlob is reported to have been sent to the bottom in the same locality where the German protected cruiser Undine, a sister ship of the Frauenlob, was lost.

Reported Sunk Off Sweden. The Frauenlob was a protected cruiser of 2,672 tons and was built in 1901. A dispatch published in the Politiken of Copenhagen Nov. 11 said a report had been received that the Frauenlob had been sunk off the south coast of Sweden. Her sister ship, the Undine, was sunk, according to an official announcement made in Berlin, by two torpedoes from a submarine on the afternoon of Nov. 7 while patrolling the south Swedish coast. Nearly the entire crew was saved.

The Frauenlob and the Undine carried crews consisting of 275 men each.

CLAIMS POWERS WANT PEACE

Henry Ford Says He Has Documentary Evidence for Belief.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Signed statements from officials high up in government circles of both the allies and central powers declaring that they are ready for peace are in the hands of Henry Ford, Detroit financier and pacifist, he announces. "Folks who say our plan is foolhardy have the greatest surprise of their lives coming," said Mr. Ford. "There is both material and other evidence that we will succeed. 'Out of the trenches by Christmas,' has become our slogan, and I can say most seriously that it is not an empty boast."

GERMAN SOLDIERS MAKE KICK

Claim Russians Keep Driving Them from Comfortable Trenches.

London, Nov. 27.—German prisoners captured along the central sector of the battle line in Russia give testimony, says a report from Petrograd, to the low spirits and discouragements which their comrades are facing in their wintry quarters on Russian soil.

The ceaseless offensives of the Russians, they say, who from time to time drive the Germans from well established and comfortable trenches, exasperate the invaders.

HAS MESSAGE FROM KAISER

Archbishop of Cologne Bearer of Tidings to Pope Benedict.

Rome, Nov. 27.—It was asserted in well informed quarters here that Cardinal von Hartmann, archbishop of Cologne, who has arrived in Rome, was the bearer of an important message from Emperor William to Pope Benedict, in which the war situation was presented from the German point of view.

In the message the emperor is said to disclaim responsibility for the war, saying that Germany was forced into it in self-defense.

OBITUARY

JOHN D. PHILLIPS

John D. Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Phillips, was born in Hamilton township, Lee county, Oct. 12, 1883, where he grew to manhood. He was united in marriage Feb. 27, 1907, to Miss Kate Lower. They moved to South Dakota where a daughter, Mary J., was born and where he resided until his death from diabetes at Edwood, Nov. 25, 1915.

His death was unexpected. He had just returned to Redwood from a visit with his father, Thomas L. Phillips, a supervisor of Lee county for fourteen years, who is ill with pneumonia at his home in Berwyn, Ill.

The deceased was a member of the Baptist church, the Masons and other fraternal organizations. He was employed by the Rumely Co. as collector for the past two years and was a very popular young man. He leaves to mourn his death: his wife, one daughter, his father and two sisters. The funeral was held at the Baptist church in Walnut Saturday afternoon, Nov. 27, at 2 o'clock, burial taking place in the family lot at the Walnut cemetery.

Perry Cowles and wife of Racine, Wis., are visiting at the Allen Weigle home.

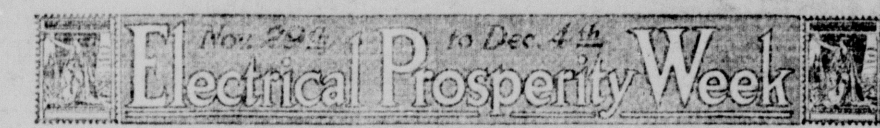

Robert the little two year old son of Henry Fishback, is very ill.

ALLIES IMPROVE PORT OF SALONIKI TO HELP IN LANDING MEN AND SUPPLIES.

GETTING CAVALRY HORSE ASHORE AT SALONIKI—FRENCH SOLDIERS AT SALONIKI—

Photos by American Press Association.

M. Skoulioudis, the new premier of Greece, having announced his intention of maintaining an attitude of "very benevolent neutrality" toward the entente powers, it is expected that the sending of allied troops to and from the Greek port of Saloniki will proceed without interruption by the Greeks. A dispatch from Athens to Paris says that by agreement with the local authorities the entente allies will construct a jetty and make a new road at Saloniki to facilitate communication between the wharves and the railroad terminus. The authorities also have given the entente allies permission to use part of the wharves to land troops when the wharves are not required for Greek transports. The pictures show the disembarkation of a cavalry horse at Saloniki and French troops marching in the city.

OSTEOPATHIC INFORMATION

Osteopath,
102 Galena Ave., Dixon.

It must be clear to even the casual observer of events that the abandonment of drugs is but one phase of the process of readjustment, of evolution through which the healing science is passing. It must be obvious also that in the new healing science, drugs aside from anesthetics, antiseptics, and antidotes, will for reasons and in accordance with facts herein mentioned, have an exceedingly unimportant place, while that accorded osteopathy adjustment will loom large and be very close to its foundation.

Taking, then, even the modest view that osteopathy possesses a new side of truth, does it not behoove us to conserve and develop what we have to the end that we may contribute something worth while to the healing science of the future? Were there no bulwark around the osteopathic idea a school of practice having much of the zeal of the crusaders the chances are great that the truths it represents would ultimately be lost, for it has been demonstrated that the dominant school of medicine is not over hospitable to suggestion, or ideas, arising outside its own ranks. The new and effective treatment for catarrhs, deafness and hay fever, which osteopathy has been developing during the past year or two, is an illustration of the superiority of the plan of concentrating upon a vital truth and working according to a demonstrated principle, over the medical habit of dissipating energy by trying every therapeutic theory that presents itself.

By results achieved does osteopathy justify itself as an independent school of healing. By reason of the promise it holds of equally as great a contribution to civic and sociological welfare, we claim for osteopathy the right to existence as a separate and distinct entity.

VACCINATION.

A. R. G.—What do osteopaths think about vaccination? The osteopathic profession as a body has never taken any stand for or against vaccination. However they are opposed to compulsory vaccination. Their attitude is, if you believe vaccination will protect you from smallpox, be vaccinated. Then (if there is any virtue in it) you need not fear your neighbor who refuses vaccination.

SOLDIERS FIRE ACROSS BORDER

Two Americans Killed and at Least Twenty Mexicans.

ERROR STARTS THE SHOOTING

Villa Evacuates Nogales, Sonora, and Stragglers From His Army Send Bullets Across International Boundary—United States Soldiers Reply in Kind and Deaths Are Result.

Nogales, Ariz., Nov. 27.—Mexican soldiers to the number of at least twenty were killed in Nogales, Sonora, shortly after noon by the fire of American troops. Two American troops were killed and eight injured.

Whether the dead are Villistas or Carranzistas is not known, but they are believed to have been Carranzistas, though the American troops thought them Villistas at the time of firing. Following the evacuation of Nogales, Sonora, in the morning early by the Villa forces, some stragglers from the Villa army remained in the main town drinking, looting and shooting their rifles at intervals.

Bullets Fall on American Side. About noon bullets began to fall on the American side of the line and an American trooper was wounded. The American soldiers, on orders of their commander, Colonel W. H. Sage, Twelfth Infantry, returned the fire and six Mexicans were seen to fall.

For a time there was a rapid exchange of shots from each side of the line. The Americans believed they were shooting at Villista stragglers who had deliberately turned their guns towards Arizona territory. Some Villistas were still in the town and may have precipitated the firing, but it is believed that most of the bullets landing on American soil came from Carranzista soldiers who were just beginning to enter the evacuated town unknown to the American troops. The Carranzistas took the American bullets for bullets from Villistas still in Nogales, Sonora, and shot back, many of their bullets falling over the Arizona line, where the American troops believed they were deliberately fired at.

Messenger Shot From Horse.

During the firing the Americans saw a band of mounted Carranzistas dashing down the principal street of the Mexican town and mistook them for Villistas coming to reinforce the supposed snipers in Nogales, Sonora. Out of this command a messenger rode to the American line to take word to the American troops that Carranzistas had arrived and were occupying the place. He was shot from his horse by the American fire as he rode to the American line.

Colonel Cardenas, commanding the advance guard of the Carranza forces, soon had a conference on the international boundary with Colonel Sage and assured him that the Carranzistas controlled the situation in the Sonora town.

Charles Will and Ed. Knight arrived home yesterday from Blessing, Tex.

Dramatic Notes

PRINCESS THEATER

Tonight the Princess theater has on its bill a two reel dramatic spectacle entitled "Oil and Water," with Henry Walthall, Blanche Sweet, Lionel Barrymore, Robert Hayron and Dorothy and Lillian Gish in the lead roles. This feature has the same cast and is directed by D. W. Griffith and people who produced "The Birth of a Nation," now playing in Chicago. The picture is one of the greatest spectacular triumphs the world has ever known and those who get the chance to see it at the Princess theater will be more than pleased with this wonderful production.

The other pictures are, "Cartoons on the Beach," a very laughable comedy, and "Matilda's Fling," also a very laughable comedy.

For Sunday a three part Lubin feature entitled "It Was To Be," will be shown with Ethel Clayton and Jack Standing in the leading roles, a heart stirring drama, splendidly acted by an all star cast of Lubin players, also a Kalem drama, entitled, "The Little Singer," with Alice Joyce in the leading role.

FAMILY THEATRE

The Filipino Four, one of the new acts at the Family for the last half of the week was one of the most thoroughly enjoyable of the season, and proved a winner. The quartet rendered a number of beautiful selections on stringed instruments that were most pleasing, as were their vocal numbers. Frank Brandon, a clever youth, is most excellent in bird imitations. Blondell & Bancroft, have a singing novelty and May Vill appears in a number of popular selections. The feature picture for this evening will be "The Menace of the Mute," and on Sunday night Henry Walthall will be featured in Ghosts, a six reel play.

OPERA HOUSE

An excellent program of photographs has been booked for the Opera House Sunday Nov. 28. The feature is Miss Betty Nansen, the popular tragedienne, in "The Storms of the Heart," a powerful emotional drama in four parts. "The Shot," a wonderful drama in two parts, featuring Sidney Ayres and Doris Pawn. "Vagabond Love," a dramatic story that is sure to touch the heart of all. "The Unnecessary Sex" a farce comedy in one act featuring that beautiful and clever actress, Violet Mersereau. Coming, "The Birth of a Nation."

John Martinson was in Chicago today to attend the monthly meeting of the car inspectors of the Northwestern railroad held at the 40th street shops.

Have You Swallowed Your Choicest Pearls?

A New York doctor took his pretty wife to dine at a smart restaurant the other day.

The pretty wife has a fad for pearls and every time she gets a chance she orders oysters in the hope that she will find a pearl—a real pearl—a pure, a flawless pearl—between bites.

So the doctor bought a beautiful pearl from a perfectly good jeweler—took it to the restaurant and arranged with the waiter to serve the oyster with the pearl in one of the shells.

The doctor's wife ate her oysters, and for the first time in years she swallowed them without chewing them.

She swallowed the pearl, too.

And now the doctor doesn't know whether to tell her about it or not.

Poor woman—she hunted for the pearl all her life and the only time she really had one—she swallowed it.

How many times have you swallowed your pearl?

I've swallowed mine—a dozen different ones—a dozen different times. Why is it that blessings so often come in disguise and why are we so stubborn that we won't learn to recognize them—any way?

I'd cross the continent to be of some use to the true friend who really cares for me—and yet, the other day, because a woman I have loved for many years did not agree with me about a matter of purely vague philosophy, I came within an ace of quarrelling with her.

My belief in the honor and the faith of man—I wouldn't lose it for anything in the world, I'd rather die than live to believe that all men are liars and all women deceivers.

Yet the other day, because one poor weakling broke a sacred vow—I almost let my faith in humanity die.

The love and trust of a little child—what can you give me in exchange for it?

It will comfort when everything else is a misery. It is a joy when all the world is sad. It is the sun shining in the shadiest place—and yesterday I almost broke a promise to a little trusting child, just because it was convenient for me to forget my appointment with him.

The pearls—the beautiful pearls—how easily we let them slip away from us.

Happiness—how we all run after it—in youth, in middle age—in infirmity—and yet, there dear happiness stands in the doorway of every humble heart, holding out her hands to us—if we could only see her and smile back into her kind eyes.

The bird in the tree, there—what if he stopped to worry about the winter time when the rain comes and all the sweet blossoms are faded and gone.

How is he going to find his way through all the miles to the far country where he must go when winter comes again?

The rose there in the garden—how sweet, how sweet it blooms.

Who planted it there—how long will it live—and that particular blossom, will it grace a table in the shaded room of an invalid—or will it be worn in the bright meshes of a beauty's hair? It does not know, the rose—it only blossoms and is fair.

Come wind of the sweet, salt sea, teach me the lesson of your glorious song. Sing on in courage and in joy and my heart shall sing with you.

And when the pearl of happiness, the pearl of friendship, the pearl of love and trust, the pearl of quiet content and honest happiness are mine—I will treasure them and keep them and not let them slip away because I am too occupied with other things to watch them well.

Luncheon Set.

Quite unusual is a luncheon cloth, circular in design, but so made that sections are provided for dobbies beneath four individual plates.

The model offers a fine opportunity to use odd pieces of linen.

It consists of linen cut in five squares and four quarters of a circle. One square is placed in the center, while the other four squares are directly opposite each of the four sides of the center square, but far enough away to allow a strip of two-inch-wide cluny insertion to be run between the edges of the squares. In a diagonal line from the four points of the center square are placed the four quarters of a circle, filling the corners left by the crossing of the cluny lace strips.

Each of the squares and quarters of linen is ornamented with a cross-stitch design worked in a combination of blues, purple and greens. The luncheon cloth is bound by an edging of the cluny lace.

Sink Strainer.

One of the best and cheapest of kitchen utensils I have discovered is a 10-cent granite colander to be used as a sink strainer. It is larger than the ordinary sink sieve and far superior in other respects.

A granite cover may be added if desired.

Novel Sleeve Board.

Where there is no sleeve board wind and pin a medium size bath towel around your rolling pin.

You will find it as good as any sleeve board.

When in doubt button your lip.

A CHILD'S TONGUE SHOWS IF LIVER OR BOWELS ARE ACTIVE

If cross, feverish, sick, bilious, give fruit laxative at once

Every mother realizes after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue Mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleanser" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your drug gist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

JAPAN IN CONTROL OF CHINESE ACTION

Celestial Empire Cannot Join Allies Without Her Consent.

Peking, China, Nov. 27.—From articles in the press and common rumor it is now apparent that the problem of whether or not China will join the quadruple entente is largely in the hands of the Japanese government. Certainly until this question is settled nothing further will be done toward making a monarchy of the Chinese republic.

The Mainichi Shimbun, of Osaka, Japan, has declared recently in an editorial:

"China is a life and death problem to Japan. Japan should be absolutely free so far as concerns her relations with China. Japan should not for a moment lose her standing as the guardian power in the far east."

TWO HURT IN STRIKE RIOT

Strikers Attack Strike Breakers at Kundtz Plant in Cleveland.

Cleveland, Nov. 27.—Two men were hurt and seven others were arrested here in a fight between strikers and strike breakers. The strike breakers were on their way to work at the Kundtz automobile body plant when the fight occurred. A strike of Hungarian workmen is in progress at this plant.

The strike breakers to the number of fifty were on a motor truck when they were set upon by strikers. Clubs, bricks and stones were hurled, but no shots were fired.

Jacob and Chris Fesslers, living north of town were entertained on Thanksgiving in Sterling at a family dinner.

him. The door behind which the body was found is just on the other side of that gate and evidently the injured man had been able to drag himself there and partly close the door before he fell unconscious and dying. The bull at first could not find him and the earth showed that it had trampled all around the barn and sheds. When at last it found its victim it took up its stand just outside the door and there it stood. To drive the animal away was impossible so that before the body could be reached the infuriated animal had to be shot and its throat cut.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS CONVENT

Five Hundred Junior Members Gather in Bloomington.

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 27.—Half a thousand junior members of the Y. M. C. A., representing all sections of Illinois, gathered here for the third annual "older boys' conference" of the organization. The previous conferences were held in Peoria in 1913 and in Rock Island last year.

Rev. Charles Gilkey of Chicago sounded the keynote of the conference at the first general session in an address on "The Significance of Christian Leadership." A. N. Cotto of New York will make the principal address at the banquet, his subject being "The World's Appeal for Leadership."

DOUBLE MURDERER GETS LIFE

Imprisonment for George Starkley Who Slew Wife and Babe.

Ottawa, Ill., Nov. 27.—The jury in the case of George David Starkley sentenced him to life imprisonment for the murder of his wife and baby.

He burned them to death last spring by setting fire to his house on an island in the Illinois river.

Marriage De Coherence.

Gelett Burgess at the recent dinner of the American Booksellers' Association in New York, said he thought that too many authors wrote for money purely.

"Hence," the creator of the Goop went on, "the result is unpleasant. Anything done purely for money is bound to be unpleasant. There are bound to be involved in it all sorts of unpleasant things that, like weeds in a garden, keep continually cropping up."

"I once knew a San Franciscan who married a girl for her money. She was not a pretty girl, and, as time passed and love cooled, she developed a rather nasty tongue."

"One day her husband bought with his quarter's allowance a 20-horsepower automobile. He took the car home gayly, and brought his wife out to the front door to look at it. She gave it one sneering glance, and then said:

"It's very nice, but if it hadn't been for my money it wouldn't be here."

"Well, Mamie," said the husband quickly, "if it hadn't been for your money you wouldn't be here yourself."

LABOR BODY MOVES FOR SIX-HOUR DAY

Shorter Working Time Might Remedy Unemployment.

San Francisco, Nov. 27.—The building trades department of the American Federation of Labor adopted a resolution instructing its incoming officers to ascertain how soon a six-hour day can be established in place of the present eight-hour day and to report on the matter at the next convention.

The six-hour day was advocated as a remedy for unemployment.

Five delegates, four representing the International Association of Machinists and one from the International Brotherhood of Boiler-makers, Iron Shipbuilders and Helpers were unseated by the building trades' convention on the ground their organizations were not building trades.

C. W. Fry of Chicago, representing the machinists, said, "We'll exist, anyway."

THIS DEFECTIVE BABY DIES

Surgical Operation Fails to Save Life in Terre Haute, Ind.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 27.—The ten-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Johnson of Cayuga died in a hospital here following an operation which the parents said might prolong the life of their defective child.

The baby was born with spinal malformation and with other internal defects which precluded natural physical development and which probably would cause death in a few months.

IOWA SELLS FAIR BUILDING

Illinois, However, Has to Pay for Removal at Panama Exposition.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 27.—The Iowa building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition has been sold to housewreckers for $370, it was announced. Second-hand building material has been a drug on the market in San Francisco and sale of fair buildings has been difficult.

New York City even had to pay $1,500 to have its building removed, and Illinois is paying $700 for similar work.

Easton, Md., Nov. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marshall, who kept their daughter Grace a prisoner in a small room for twelve years, were released on bail of $2,500 each for the action of the grand jury.

Grace Marshall has shown great improvement, but her physician says her mental condition is causing great worry.

He is now far down on the list of America's millionaires.

DIRE DISTRESS

IT IS NEAR AT HAND TO HUNDREDS OF DIXON READERS.

Don't neglect an aching back. Backache is often the kidneys' cry for help.

Neglect hurrying to the kidneys' aid. Means that urinary troubles may follow.

Or danger worse than kidney trouble.

Here's Dixon testimony. Mrs. C. Charlton, 516 Lincoln avenue, Dixon, says: "I had been suffering for a long time from pains across my back and sides. The trouble was particularly severe at night and early in the morning. When I bent over to lift anything, I was hardly able to straighten up again. My kidneys were inactive. Finally I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Leake Bros Co.'s drug store and it didn't take them long to give me relief."

The above statement was given on May 1st, 1912, and when Mrs. Charlton was again interviewed on January 21st, 1915, she said: "I use Doan's Kidney Pills whenever my back gets lame. Another of my family has also taken them with the best of results." Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Charlton had. BEST MINNESOTA BARGAIN.

About 625 acres of the best land in this state as smooth as a floor and cut on the north by good river (full of fish), and cut on the south by big ditch, just completed, and this ditch is about eight feet deep and shows the best of good yellow clay clear to the bottom. The top soil is the best black sandy loam to be found in Minnesota. The water is pure, and never falling well on the place, which is occupied by tenant. This farm is as smooth as the best of the Red River Valley it should not be confused with same, as this is near the highest point of land in the state.

There is fair house and also other buildings with some fenced in pasture and also some field in crop, and all the land desired for crop can be broken with tractor and as this is new land one crop of flax will pay for it at the bargain price of $25 per acre.

Five thousand dollars cash will handle the deal and it is near direct line to Duluth, which is the best market in the Northwest.
